Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Horness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,

From Bell's London Messenger of March 28

EUROPEAN VIEWS OF AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

The last week has produced two foreign articles of intelligence, of considerable importance, indeed one of them much more pregnant with consequences than it may now appear. These events are, the final cession of Florida, by the court of Madrid, to the government of the U. States, and the project of the law for governing the French press.

As respects the cession of the Floridas, we have long been persuaded that the Spanish government would at length consent to this cession, and would make the best bargain, for a profitable exchange, for what had long become only burthensome. The Floridas, however valuable in themselves, were not of a nature to become of any value to a government like that of Ferdinand whose spirit is to reap what others sow, and to procure its revenue by an enormous taxation upon commerce and mines.—Florida, though a vast and unbroken mine of agricultural produce, has no mines of silver and gold; it wants capital to commence its agricultural operations, and industry to continue them; it wants good laws, enlightened magistrates, and a reformed religion. But Ferdinand and his government could supply nothing of these necessities. Florida, therefore, in their hands was the vineyard of the sluggard. Its hedges were broken down, or rather not planted; its fields were untilled, and its noble waters and rivers were choaked with mud. Spain under these circumstances, has ceded little in ceding the Floridas.

We have often had occasion to say that the Americans are a very acute people, and see their interest at as long a distance as the most of profound politicians of Europe. It was with a view to the present cession that they sent a mission along the South American coast, during the last summer. The avowed object of that mission was to inquire into the actual relations of the emancipated cities and provinces of South America. The real purpose was to hold out a very intelligible menace to the government of Madrid, and thereby to convey a hint, which, in the recent negociations with respect to Florida, has not been lost upon the Spanish ministers. This policy is equivalent to that of a private dealer who, desirous of getting a good price for his commodity, points out a second bidder whilst he is dealing with the first —"Do as you please. I think myself bound in honor to give you the refusal; but you see another chapman is at the door."

Nor will the republican ambition of the American people remain satisfied, even with this acquisition, though the immediate result of it be, that in any future war with England, it exposes our West India Islands to such rapid and successive invasions, as must exhaust any fleet we can send to save or recover them. With the single exception of Jamaica, which is of sufficient extent and resources to provide for her own defence, all the Carribean Islands are at the mercy of the U. States; and upon this simple principle, that they will not be worth the expense of successive reconquests by a government so remote as that of Great Britain. This is our consideration, but we do not think it of much importance. Another consideration is the progressive spirit becoming daily more manifest in the American people and government. The acquisition of Florida has already excited some avowed longings with respect to Mexico itself. Their popular writers, and even the American Senate, begin to speculate upon the comparative value of Mexico to America, and the Spanish government, and under these feelings wish to push the frontier boundary of the United States towards Mexico. It is thus stated in the Gazette of the government, and may be therefore deemed almost official 'that there was a strong indisposition in the American Senate to relinquish the territory between the Sabine and the Rio del Norte, the line of demarcation originally contended for, a league of which is justly deemed of more value to the U. States (and which would include a considerable portion of seaboard on the Gulf of Mexico) than the whole territory west of the Rocky Mountains, which, for centuries to come, can be of very little importance to the United States.

The other principal article of foreign intelligence, is, the French proposal for a new law to regulate the press. We think ourselves, that these intended regulations go a little too far, and rather lead to the servitude of the public press, than to the due regulation of its liberty. But perhaps the French press may, under the present state of things, require this great degree of legal control.—Parties and passions still run very strong; and we understand that some of their political pamphlets are written with a most audacious contempt of the authority of law and government. We cannot say that we feel much sympathy for the French writers: for in no kingdom in Europe is the public press more scandalous, indecent and irreligious.

Montreal, May 1.

PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENT OF L. CANADA.

Legislative Council.—Copy of the resolutions passed by the legislative council, on the second reading of the civil list bill, Wednesday, 21st April, 1819.

1st. "Resolved, That the mode adopted by this bill for granting a supply to His Majesty, to defray the expences of the civil list, is unprecedented and unconstitutional, and a direct assumption, on the part of the assembly, of the most important rights and prerogatives of the crown. That were this bill to be passed into a law, it would give the commons of this Province, not merely the constitutional privilege of providing the supplies, but the power also of prescribing to the crown the number and description of its servants; and of regulating and rewarding their services individually, as the assembly should, from time to time, judge meet or expedient: by which means they would be dependent on an elective body instead of being dependent on the crown; and might eventually be made instrumental to the overthrow of that authority which, by their allegiance, they are bound to support."

2d. "That this house will proceed no further in the consideration of this bill."

The governor in chief on the 24th ult. prorogued the provincial parliament. The following is an extract from his speech on this occasion:

Gentlemen, &c.—I came to this province to take the government of his majesty's dominions in North America, with a sincere desire of carrying into practice the intentions and liberal views of his royal highness the prince regent, to promote by every practicable measure, their general prosperity, to improve their internal resources, and the individual happiness of his majesty's people.

A reasonable hope and expectation was entertained by me, in accepting this command, that I should meet in those pursuits with the cheerful support of every well informed person, who could appreciate in his own mind my motives in undertaking the charge.

With these impressions on my mind, and with full confidence in your zeal, your loyalty and your local knowledge of the public and private interests of your country, I met you on your legislative duties, and have most patiently attended to your proceedings during a long session, which I am now to close by prorogation.

You, gentlemen of the legislative council, have not disappointed my hopes, and I beg to return to you my thanks for the zeal and alacrity you have shown in all that more immediately belongs to your body.

It is with much concern I feel myself compelled to say, that I cannot express to you, gentlemen of the assembly, the same satisfaction, nor my approbation of the general result of your labors, (at the expense of so much valuable time) and of the public principles upon which they rest, as recorded on your journals.

You proceeded upon the documents which I laid before you to vote a part of the sum required for the expences of the year 1819, but the bill of appropriation which you passed, was founded upon such principles, that it appears from the journals of the upper house, to have been most constitutionally rejected: his majesty's government has been thus left without the necessary supplies for supporting the civil administration of the province for the ensuing year, notwithstanding the voluntary offer and pledge given to his majesty, by the resolve of your house, of the 13th of Feb. 1810.

The present time affords you an opportunity of maturely deliberating on these important objects, and on others essentially necessary to be better considered. I recommend particularly to your attention as individuals, the value of your constitution of government, which affords the most complete and ample protection and freedom of person and property that can possibly be desired, and superior to every system of government enjoyed by any colony that has heretofore existed, your sister colony of Upper Canada excepted. And as branches of the legislature, it is of the first importance that you should fully understand your constitutional rights; that privilege may not come into question with prerogative, and that while you maintain those rights which respectively belong to the constitution, you may be equally careful of encroaching on each other, and respectively pay a due regard to the rights of the crown.

I shall lay before his majesty's ministers the proceedings of the session and a general state of the revenue, the expenses, agriculture and commerce of the province, & request instructions on such points as may be necessary to be more fully understood, that difference of opinion amongst those who ought to have only one object in view, may as much as possible be avoided.

From the Cape Fear Recorder, May 8.

Captain Bourn of the brig James and Isabella, arrived at this port on Monday last from St. Jago de Cuba, informs us that off Cape Antonia he was boarded by the brig Irresistable, of the Oriental Republic of La Plata, lately under the command of Commodore Daniels, and which our readers will recollect that according to the proclamation of Juan Bautista Arismendi, published in the Recorder of last week, was run away with from the Island of Margarita, as is therein stated. She had Buenos Ayres colors flying. She treated the James and Isabella politely; and shortly after she left her, brought to and boarded five or six other vessels, one of which was under Dutch colors. The next day the Irresistable came alongside of the James and Isabella again. They stated that they had examined the Dutchman strictly—and that they took out eighteen cases of gin. They invited Captain Bourn on borrd, when he was informed that she was under the command of John F. Ferguson, (one of the persons mentioned in the list annexed to the proclamation)—that the brig has no commission, but a personal one, under which they were going to cruize for four or five months, and then going to head quarters for one.

They appeared to be very anxious to meet with commodore Daniels, whom they understood was cruising for them, and against whom they appeared very inveterate; and that if they ever fell in with him, that they were determined to conquer, or blow both vessels to the Heavens—that they never went to quarters without a train to the Magazine; and that if Daniels had a superior force, that they would lay the brig alongside of him, make a sally for Daniel's magazine, and blow both vessels up together. They also stated that Daniels, while they were under his command, treated them improperly, that he had confined, in the fort at Margarita, three of his crew, and who were under sentence of death, in consequence of some alleged disrespect to his person. That the crew wished to come to the United States, and could have obtained a passage in an American vessel, but that Daniels would not permit them—and that they had no other alternative than to submit to remaining with him, (which they were determined not to do) or pursue the plan they did; and finally that they intended to cruize two or three months in those seas, and off St. Jago de Cuba, and at the south side of Hispanolia. The brig sailed very fast.

From the National Intelligencer.

We have been often interested by the geographical information respecting our remoter Western territory, afforded us by the St Louis newspapers, and by the enlarged views of their future destiny, which writers in those papers have afforded us. Sometimes, perhaps in their flights, they soar too high; sometimes, looking forward through the vista of futurity, they may forget the ground they tread upon. The following extract, from the St. Louis Enquirer may serve to exemplify the magnificence of the views of the grandeur of the West, which are entertained in that country.

"The Valley of the Mississippi, according to Mellish, contains one million five hundred thousand square miles.

The Roman Empire, according to Gibbon, contained, in the time of Augustus Cæsar, one million six hundred thousand.

That proud empire was then in the zenith of her power and splendor, and vainly supposed to have embraced the world within her limits; yet was but very little larger than the valley which is drained by the waters of the Mississippi.

But the dominion of the American Republic is not limited to 1,500,000 square miles. The valley which exhibits that magnificent area is only a part of her empire; which also embraces two APPENDANT SLOPES, or borders, one to east, where the old 13 United States are situated, and the other to the west, where the banks of the Columbia and Multonomah, and the shore of the Pacific, have yet to invite the cultivating hand of the farmer and the exploring genius of the East India merchant.

These slopes, or borders, being COUNTED IN with the valley, will make the American Republic near double the size of the Roman empire; and every man will see that she will be more powerful in proportion to her superior size, on account of her middle position between Europe and Asia, her compact form, and the natural union and indivisibility of all her parts."

Our anticipations of the future greatness of this Republic—of its augmented population, intellect, and wealth, have been sometimes thought too sanguine. But, in their widest range, they never reached the period when "the old thirteen United States" were to be considered as a mere appendage to the states which are or shall be formed in the valley of the Mississippi; to be counted in as a mere skirt of the empire of the Republic. This is a new view of the future destiny of the Atlantic States, and calculated to produce some serious thoughts. That this Republic will, in time be more powerful than the Roman ever was, we have never doubted; but, we hope, be its power what it may, it will never be employed as that of Rome was.

From the Nashville Clarion.

RED RIVER.

A gentleman immediately from exploring the lands on the waters of Red River, gives the following sketch, extracted from a letter wrote to a friend, who requested information of him:

"I regret that I cannot comply generally with your request. From the cursory view I have been able to take of the country, I have satisfied myself that too much cannot be said of the soil, climate, situation, and the natural advantages of the district on Red river, and its tributary streams, between the latitude of 33 and 36. It affords a soil and climate, that embraces all the staples of the Union, except sugar, to the greatest perfection. It contains more real first rate cultivatable land than any one of the western states; the bottoms, and what may be termed low grounds, for 500 miles above the great raft on Red River are on an average 10 miles wide, and I have seen few spots with any traces of an overflow. This tract of land is in places covered with valuable timber of very little undergrowth, and other places the most beautiful prairies. As far as I have seen, the prairies are surrounded with the best kind of timber; and, in fact, better than any prairie country I have seen, either on the Ohio or Mississippi. The land back from these bottoms afford a variety of soil for many miles, at great proportion very good and interspersed with beautiful rich prairies, and especially on the west of the main river and on the south of Sulphur Fork. The branch empties in a short distance above the great raft, and has for about 500 miles, as good land as there is in the United States.

No section of the Union of an equal extent can boast of so many advantages.—As to the grand raft, it is more a bug-bear than a reality, as it is fact that large vessels passed it every month last year, and with a very small expense it can be rendered navigable at all times. The country is settling fast, as the prospect of gain is such that emigration cannot be stopped.

Last year there were only about 100 families on Red River above the raft; now there are more than 800, and from the best information I can obtain, there are 10,000 acres planted in corn, which will, in all probability produce four hundred thousand bushels of grain; this of itself will insure an abundant supply of emigrants, and pork to any amount may be engaged at five dollars a hundred. Persons emigrating who can conveniently drive horses and cattle, are advised to do so, as most of the emigrants come by water and have to supply themselves from the stock in the country. A better stock country there is not in the Universe, I expect. It is generally well watered, and in many places are valuable mill seats; the general course of Red River is a little south of east; that of Sulphur Fork east; Little River, about 250 miles above the raft about 300 miles navigable, course south of west, heads in the Arkansas mountains.

I have no doubt that Red River and its branches will be capable of affording, in ten years, more strength and wealth than all the Mississippi and Missouri country, above the 33d degree of latitude. Very valuable salines and beds of iron ore are found in abundance, and I have no doubt but copper and precious metals will be found. As to the inhabitants, they are not such as generally settle new countries—they are moral and industrious, and mostly belong to the Methodist church, the preachers of which society (six in number,) are of unimpeachable character. No section of the Union can boast of more order.

In a commercial point of view, this country will have more advantages than any other west of the Mississippi—as there will be a trade with the Spaniards in the neighborhood of the mines of Santa Fe, &c. the distance is much less than is generally imagined, and the country a level dry plain—down Red River will at all times be a good market, and if the supply be greater than the demand on that stream, New Orleans may be furnished at a season of the year when the Ohio and Mississippi are frozen up, and that is the season too when produce generally bears the best price, being the most favorable to ship to the Islands.—There can be no doubt but the government will foster this settlement; it is at present unauthorized and the settlers without a title, but it is understood the Indian title will be extinguished this fall by gov. Clark, and the land, as soon as it can be, brought into market. Interest and policy require this to be done: the settlement is on an exposed frontier, where the U. States are as vulnerable as any where else, and where supplies, &c. in case of war, will be very much needed, and even in case an enemy should invade N. Orleans in the winter season, when no assistance could be obtained from the Ohio or Mississippi settlements, because of these streams being frozen up, an efficient force could be moved from Red River for its support.

The last war was near proving this argument; it was a providental and unlooked for rise in the waters of Cumberland and Ohio Rivers, and the pleasant weather, that enabled Gens. Carrol and Thomas to reach N. Orleans in time to save it.

New-York, May 18.

JUSTICE EVADED.

A curious instance of escape from the fangs of the law, occurred at one of the wharves in this city yesterday. In consequence of a wrangle between a sailor and a black man; the latter having sustained some injury, procured a writ against the sailor, and put it into an officer's hands for the purpose of having him arrested. Jack being upon the wharf when the sheriff drew near, immediately mounted the shrouds of a fishing smack to the mast-head, and there took his seat, lit his segar, and very composedly began to smoke. The officer having in vain attempted to coax him down within the reach of process, at length concluded to have him brought down by force. The messenger approaching rather too near, Jack took a small spar, used for a top-mast, and kept him at a reasonable distance. Finding it impossible to surmount this obstacle, he after a while retreated back to the deck. After Jack had maintained his position at the mast-head for nearly two hours, occasionally relieving his apprehensions by a bottle of grog, which his messmates below had fastened to a rope for him to draw up, a sloop laying alongside being about getting under weigh, by the aid of his brother tars, the two vessels were locked in such a manner as to bring the rigging into contact, when he stepped from his roost in the mast-head of the smack over to that of the sloop, and sailing securely off amidst the cheers of a great number of persons who had collected on the dock, and witnessed the diverting scene, and left the minister of justice to return his writ non est inventus.

The above would certainly not be a good return; at least, it would not comport with the fact; but quere, whether an action, or the case for non-feasance. would not lie against the sheriff? Although in sight, the defendant was never in custody; for there was neither an actual nor constructive submission to the process. But ought not the officer to have called to his aid the posse comitatus? At any rate, it would be an excellent case for the law.

"We, the subscribers, being fully sensible of the importance of military discipline, and preferring a select association to the mixt enrolment in the common battalion companies, do hereby agree to form ourselves into a UNIFORM COMPANY, to be denominated ——————. The uniform to be that which the law prescribes, and the officers to be elected by the company."

The advantages resulting to the members of such an association are obvious.—The uniform will not be an expense, as in other companies, it being that which the militia law requires every individual to appear in, which requisition will be rigidly enforced hereafter by courts martial. The number will be limited to 64, and those desirous of becoming members should enrol themselves immediately. 3t May 13

Penmanship.

A PRACTICAL, easy running hand warranted, and no compensation received except there is an improvement made to the utmost satisfaction of the young ladies and gentlemen who attend.

Those disposed may try the experiment during 12 hours, at the end of which time, if their improvement does not meet their approbation, they may withdraw and no charge made. And further, if those scholars who continue on through the 16 lessons, do not in their own estimation. or in the estimation of their parents or guardians, make more improvement than is generally made in two years, in the old way of teaching, it is requested that no one pay any thing.

During the 16 lessons are taught the small running hand, secretary and Italian hand, the last of which is particularly fashionable for young ladies.

The teacher having had nearly eight years experience at various seminaries of learning and in the principal cities and towns in the United States, offers the advantage of this long experience to all those who apply, during the present week, after which none can be received.

Those disposed to engage, may apply at the writing room, Washington-street, two doors north of King-street, where may be seen specimens of hand writing, acquired in less than one week. Application must be made during the present week—after which not one scholar will be received.

A class of young ladies may attend at any separate hours, either in the morning or evening; and also young ladies who prefer it may take lessons at home.

As this plan of writing embraces the two essential qualities of a good penman, ease and elegance; and as the time necessary to acquire it is merely nothing, it is believed, if its real utility were fully known, not one person of any age, who has the least wish of improving his hand writing, would hesitate to try the experiment. Perhaps this opportunity may not offer again in Alexandria for many years.

The White House Fishery

STILL proceeds with success in catching shad of the best quality; and those who have not yet had their full supply, may be confident of getting here what they want, for two or three weeks to come, according to what is usual at this landing.

Herrings are caught in plenty, both here and at Sandy Point, and another glut is expected up the river daily.

The roads being good, and the weather warm, it is best for persons wanting fish, to take them fresh from the seines at the landings; and to accommodate customers, country produce will be received in payment for fish, at the Alexandria prices, particularly wheat, flour, corn, meal, oats and bacon. Notice

Addressed to the French Refugees from St. Domingo.

HIS Most Christian Majesty having taken into consideration the hard condition of some of the French refugees from St. Domingo, who have retired into the United States, and whose families or pecuniary affairs recal them to France, and who seem to be without the means of providing for their own passage, has pleased to approve that a man-of-war shall land at New-York the last of June next, to carry to France such of them as may be disposed to return to their native country.

As this favor has been requested to alleviate honorable misfortunes, it is to turn only to the advantage of the unfortunate; therefore, the choice will only fall on the refugees whose situation will be acknowledged to be the most unhappy, and who, besides, will find it beneficial and urgent to return immediately to France.

The Minister of H. M. C. M. wishing to prevent, on this subject, the slightest error, invites the said French persons, who have either applied to him already, or, thinking themselves entitled to enjoy such benefit, would take advantage of it, to cause their requests to be directed to him through the agency of the consuls and vice consuls of France residing in their districts.

The consular agents will communicate to those obtaining a passage certain directions which they ought to follow, as the man-of war of H. M. C. M. is to stop but a few days in the port of New-York.

The editors of the newspapers to which the Minister of France is a subscriber, will be pleased to insert the foregoing notice in their papers two or three times, in order that said French families may be acquainted with it.

By order of the Minister of H. M. C. M.
THIERRY,
Attached to the French Legation.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

ROBERT COCHRAN,

No. 48, North Fourth-street, next door to the Green Tree Inn, Philadelphia.

WITH confidence offers to the public, his superior Portable and Liquid blacking, so much admired and approved of, which is manufactured by himself only.

This blacking possesses every desirable quality, being of an oily nature, it preserves the leather perfectly soft to the last, and keeps it from cracking—it is a jet black, affords a most superlative polish, entirely free from any offensive smell, and so clean as not to soil the whitest muslin or any other substance it may chance to run against, and will keep in any climate—it has a peculiar advantage in being put up in a portable manner, and may be packed without possibility of risque, with the nicest clothes or goods. The Portable Blacking is much adapted for gentlemen residing or travelling in the country, where materials for making Blacking is not to had, and as for cheapness and elegance, far exceeds any ever imported or manufactured in the union. Where is sold as above, the beautiful Chinese Liquid Blacking, for ladies morocco boots and shoes, which makes the oldest morocco boots or shoes appear the same as when new. Sold wholesale at the manufactory, as above.

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public estimation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Miltimore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematicks, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board. Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendance over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year! It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Signed, by order,

NEALE H. SHAW, Reg'r.
